

Who was Pablo Picasso and why is he remembered today?

-Research the artwork of Picasso and create an image of your own: provide a commentary explaining how Picasso has inspired you.

Write a profile of the life of Picasso or another Cubist artist.

What can we learn about World War 2 by investigating our own family?

Interview a relative or family friend who has memories of the war or the 1940s. Find out where they lived, and what they remember.

What was life like for children growing up in World War 2?

Find out how children were affected by life on the Home Front. Choose how to display your findings.

Homework needs to be handed in by Friday 20th November

If there is a homework project you would like to complete that is not on the list, please let Miss Miles or Mrs Gibbs know.

How do we stay safe around electricity?

Design an annotated poster or presentation summarising some of the dangers we have learnt about in and around the home.

Have a go at some ration-book cookery: write a recipe and take some photos of the ingredients, process and final product.

Find out about the experience of evacuees: write a letter or diary entry as if you were an evacuee.

Find out how safe your home is by conducting an electrical safety survey. Record your findings using notes or photos and write a report describing what you discover.

Produce some artwork based on a song with a powerful message and write some sentences to explain your feelings.

How can music reflect our feelings, thoughts and aspirations?

Talk to your parents: try to find a song that has been written in response to an inequality or social/political issue (e.g. war, homelessness, poverty).
